The Gallery hosts new proprietary exhibitions as well as established traveling exhibitions. It also acts a laboratory for developing exhibitions developed at the University.

The media ranges from full scale sculptural pieces to digital images, to auditory installation components to printed media. The space must therefore be both a neutral background and a flexible infrastructure simultaneously. The success of the gallery is routinely calibrated as the breadth of the exhibitions that it hosts grows.